- November 2024

Our Understanding

- Spuerkeess is considering the conversion to BMC DevX Code Pipeline to:

    - Move Spuerkeess into the future (e.g. VS Code and Git integration)

    - Modernize the Production of Applications

    - Replace SCLM Solution due to the lack of the qualified recourses to support it.

Scope

Items specific to this SOW	Number
Number of source members current SCM is managing.	Up to 9,000 items
Maximum number of historical versions per item	3
Number of compile procedures	Up to 20

Interfaces
n/a

Environments / Platforms	Number
Build/Test	2	Environment in which build activities take place and subsequent unit/functional/UAT/system testing etc
Prod	2	The live production run time environment

Assumptions

- Included but not limited to the following:

- Scope of conversion: The conversion is limited to the discovered mainframe environment.

- Migration Tasks: If any conversion tasks not disclosed in the initial questionnaire are discovered during the solution design, the estimate may increase accordingly.

- Data Migration: Up to 3 levels of history will be migrated.

- Deliverables: All deliverables will be produced in English and will adhere to BMC templates.

- Work Delivery: Key Meetings can be delivered onsite, according to the expense allowance. The majority of the activates (configuration and migration) will require remote access to the customer system.

- Post-conversion Assistance: Up to 10 person days of post-conversion support (over 2 months) will be provided.

- Access to Systems: BMC resources will have read access to SCLM and admin access to Code Pipeline within the Spuerkeess system(s) and other reasonable access (to be defined). The shipped laptop option would be possible.

- No government level or special security checks or clearance are required
